

Nick Sfikas To Manage WNTC

Nick Sfikas, Clarkson business administration senior, was elected station manager of Campus Station WNTC at a meeting of the general membership Wednesday night. At the same time the constitution submitted by the organization committee was ratified by the charter members, and other officers and committee chairmen were chosen.

Other members of the executive board elected were William Mooney of Potsdam State Teachers College, assistant station manager; Lionel Hoffman of Clarkson, secretary; Franklin C. Bradley of Clarkson, chairman of the engineering committee; Daniel Weinberg of Clarkson, chairman of the business committee; Carolyn Longfritz of PSTC, chairman of the program committee and Ronald Elliott of Clarkson, chairman of the publicity committee.

"The adoption of the constitution," Sfikas said, "is the most important step since plans for the station originated over a year ago. With a definite governing body, it is now possible for the station to recruit new members and begin formal operations as a permanent organization."

Under the terms of the constitution, which has yet to be formally approved by the presidents of the two colleges, students who have worked on the various temporary committees were designated charter members.

Students wishing to join the campus station must submit membership applications to the station secretary. After a trial period of at least one month, applicants may be elected members by a majority vote of the executive board.

Committee chairmen have been instructed, Sfikas said, to recruit applicants to serve on their respective committees. Applicants when affiliating with the station, must choose at least one and not more than two committees on which to serve, according to the constitution.

with the Clarkson Electronics Society over a year ago. Following a trial broadcast, the Electronics Society formed the Carrier Current Committee which contained Clarkson students, some of whom were not members of the society. These non-members were selected to develop plans for studio construction, business and publicity.

When PSTC's fall semester began, five students from that college joined with six members of the Carrier Current Committee to draw up the station constitution. All these committees were dissolved Wednesday night with the student ratification of the constitution.

In addition to the members of the executive board, the 24 charter members include, from Clarkson, Stuart H. Bouchey, Erwin Hanke, James S. Moore, Ralph Schneider, Marion S. Delucia, Charles Podgurski, John Latta, Thomas C. Harris, Frank A. Frattali, Leo Thompson, Leo Fournier, John Carroll, and Robert Goldscheider.

From PSTC, Bette Roberts, Mary Smith, Elizabeth Bailey and Art May.
